

Economic Systems

“Globalization is a fact, because of technology, because of an integrated global supply chain, because of changes in transportation. And we’re not going to be able to build a wall around that.”

–Barack Obama

Instructions: Students should use this hyperdoc to complete the week’s lesson and activities. The “Engage” section starts with a short warm up based on the video that is linked. Students should watch the video and type out their responses in the box. Next, move to the “Explore” section and check out both the articles. These will be important for understanding the lesson, which is contained in “Explain”. Students should watch the ScreenCastify and use the lesson to complete their two-column notes. Make sure after the lesson to use the Kahoot challenge and the exit ticket to reflect (the exit ticket will help me to reflect, too!) and at the end you will need to make a choice and complete ONE of the three options that are provided.

	<h2 style="text-align: center;">Engage</h2> This week we are studying what will be one of the most defining issues of your life time, globalization. Many people think that globalization is an inevitable phenomenon, but it is also controversial because there are both positive and negative aspects and it is producing a lot of change in our daily lives. Watch this video. How would you define globalization in your own words? What is one way that globalization is changing our world?

Explore

Next, read this article and watch this one. What is one positive aspect of globalization? What is a negative aspect?

Opinion: Do you think globalization is a positive or negative force (and WHY)? Do you think that globalization is inevitable or could the world take a different course?

Explain

Set aside some time to watch my lesson and take notes in a two-column format (Cornell notes). Your left hand questions will be:

- 1) What are the three reasons why we have globalization? Define and explain each of the reasons, using examples from the lesson.
- 2) What are two positive aspects of globalization? Explain.
- 3) What are two negative aspects of globalization? Explain.

Elaborate

First we'll play a Kahoot to test your knowledge. 1A and 3A play here, 1B and 3B can play here (I have a maximum limit of 100 students per game and I can't get around that). When you have completed the Kahoot challenge please complete this exit ticket.

Evaluate

Now it is show time! Please complete ONE of the following options that are provided to demonstrate mastery of what you have learned this week.

Option 1: Students can read an article and complete the guided questions at this link

Option 2: Students can play the game "Trading Around the World" and complete a reflection.

Option 3: Students can make a meme, political cartoon, etc.
